Notes to consider when purchasing.

For best results when painting pressed metal, the panels must be etch primed first, the overlap (or join) is 'no more gapped' then the panels are painted using a water based enamel paint in the colour and finish of your choice.

We do not recommend powder coating. When the panel is cut or penetrations are made the powder coating will crack and raw edge will show. Overlaps and joints cannot be 'no more gapped' to give a seamless finish.
